

ROBERT L. MOORE, SES
Deputy to the Commanding General
United States Army Security Assistance Command

Mr. Robert L. Moore is the Deputy to the Commanding General of the U.S. Army Security Assistance Command.

USASAC leads the AMC Security Assistance Enterprise; develops and manages security assistance programs and Foreign Military Sales cases to build partner capacity, supports COCOM engagement strategies and strengthens US Global partnerships. USASAC is the Premier Security Assistance Organization in the Dept of Defense. USASAC advances US Strategic Partnerships by providing exceptional support in security assistance and foreign military sales.

The mission of USASAC is to implement approved U.S. Army security assistance programs, including Foreign Military Sales (FMS) of defense articles and services to eligible foreign governments. The command manages approximately 4,000 FMS cases valued at $103 billion, as well as coproduction of Army material. Today, the Command is increasingly responding to support of U.S. Government emergency assistance, humanitarian relief, and Operations Other Than War, including United Nations peacekeeping operations. USASAC's motto is "USASAC – The Army's Face to the World."

Previously, Mr. Moore served as the Deputy Director of Security Cooperation and ODC Operations, J-5, Headquarters U.S. European Command, Stuttgart-Vaihingen, Germany. Prior to that, he was Deputy Director of Logistics and Security Assistance, J-4 Headquarters U.S. European Command.

Mr. Moore was selected to the Army's Senior Executive Service in July 2003. Prior to entering the executive service, he served more than 28 years in the United States Air Force, retiring in the rank of Colonel. His military career includes experience in political military affairs, security assistance and the full spectrum of logistics management. He has served as a missile maintenance officer, branch chief of an inspector general team, squadron commander/deputy commander for maintenance in a Tactical flying unit, director of logistics for a Tactical Air Control Wing, and deputy commander and commander of a logistics group. His last military assignment was with the Embassy of the United States of America as Chief, Office of Defense Cooperation, Berlin, Germany.

He received his Bachelor's Degree (cum laude) in Biology and Chemistry in 1974, Alabama State University, Montgomery, Alabama, 1979 Master's Degree in Counseling, Pepperdine University, California, 1979 Squadron Officer School, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, 1981 Master's Degree in Logistics Management, Air Force Institute of Technology, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, 1989 Air Command and Staff College, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, 1992 Air War College, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, 2005 Senior Executive Leadership Program at the Center for Creative Leadership, Colorado Springs, Colorado, 2006 Executive Program on Black Sea Security, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts, 2007 Program for Executives in Logistics and Technology, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, 2009 Leadership and Innovation: Operators Driving Solutions, Business Transformation Agency, UNC at Chapel Hill, and in 2010 the Joint Executive Management Course, Kenan-Flagler Business School, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and in 2011 the Army Acquisition Corps Leadership Program, Arlington, Virginia.
